The committee took up the resolution on a written request from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which asked for hearings.

"It was determined," said Chairman Newlands, after the committee acted, "to have no hearings upon the subject, but to lay the resolution upon the table. The committee deemed it inadvisable while proceedings were pending under the mediation arbitration act to take up the subject of the pay and hours of service of railway employes. It was also deemed inadvisable to add to the present duties of the interstate commerce commission, which, as is well known, is overloaded with work."

Conflicting Claims.

Heads of the street railways and the union leaders made conflicting claims during the day, Theodore P. Shounts of the New York Railways Company asserting that he had been notified by a delegation of motormen and conductors that 2,400 of the 2,500 employes of the company had signified their loyalty, while Organizer Fitzgerald of the union claimed that virtually all the employes of this company and of the New York and union and were ready to vote a strike if the ultimatum expiring at 3 o'clock this afternoon was not favorably commerced.

Urged to Remain Neutral.

"The railway managers and the representatives of the railroad organizations," said a letter from the railroad brotherhood officials to Senator Newlands, "will confer in New York early in August and we believe the committee on interstate commerce should remain neutral at least until jointly called upon by the national conference committee of railway managers and the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, and we respectifully suggest this course of action.

Leaders of Brotherhoods Meet and Outline Course if Railroads Stand Firm

NEW YORK, August 4.—Conferences of the leaders of the four great brotherhoods of railroad employes representing 400,000 men, the majority of whom are believed to have voted to strike on 225 railway systems, were held here today. These meetings were to enable the leadrailway systems, were need nere today. These meetings were to enable the leaders to decide upon their course of action if the representatives of the railroads again refuse their demand for an eighthour day and other changes. The labor leaders declined to discuss the appeal to President Wilson to prevent the threatened national railroad strike. It lies in their power by virtue of the vote now being counted, to call a strike, if the railroads do not accede to their demands. It is expected that the conference committee of the railroad managers will again refuse the men's demands at the meeting Tuesday, and that the managers will advocate arbitration by the interstate commerce commission or the federal board of mediation; or that the strike he settled under the Newlands act of 1914 by a commission of six men, two to be appointed from either side and two to be neutral. It side and two to be neutral of six men, two to be appointed in either side and two to be neutral. It is not regarded as likely that the labor leaders will consent to this.

In case of a deadlock, the railway managers look to President Wilson to take a hand in the controversy by calling representatives of both sides to Washington and notifying them they must compose their differences in some manner in the public interest.

Chairmen of the trainmen's unions in the west and southwest continued to arrive in the city today, bringing with them ballots marked by the men on their respective lines. Thus far more than 75 per cent of the 400,000 votes cast have been counted. Nearly all, it was announced, favor a strike.

Railroad Men Not in Brotherhoods

CHICAGO, August 4.-A national campaign among all railroad employes not comprised in the four brotherhoods who are voting on a strike has been started to obtain legislation by Congress to empower some body to settle all disputes as to wages between railroads and employes, whether organized or unorganized.

R. T. Frazier of Nashville, Tenn.. chairman of a committee of railroad employes outside the four brotherhoods, says petitions for such legislation have been signed by a majority of men employed on some southern roads and that the movement would be made national in scope.

The committee contends that 8 per cent of railroad employes are not included among the trainmen. These men included construction, repair, shop, office and operating department employes. not comprised in the four brother-and operating department employes. Their wages are said to be much smaller than those of the trainmen, it is said, and a strike would throw many of them out of work and reduce their chances for an increase, especially if the trainmen gained an increase, it is contended by the committee.

Lew Wendell, maskman of the Giants, has been sent to the Louisville club of the American Association along with Rube Shauer, pitcher. It is likely Wendell will be recalled by McGraw in September and that he will be with the club again next season.

PRINCE GEORGES COUNTY DISTRICT BILL SENT EFFORTS TO MAKE DRY

Series of Campaign Meetings Being Held Under Auspices of Citizens' Temperance Union.

With the hope of making "dry" all of Prince Georges county, the only territory immediately adjacent to the District of Columbia not won by the prohibition forces, the Citizens' Temperance Union of that county is conducting an aggressive campaign. Certain parts of the county are already "dry." but an act of the legislature provides that the entire county shall vote on the question of whether prohibition shall be over the entire county. It is the desire of the organization to have the entire county made "dry." although a vote in the negative will not take prohibition from those sections of the county where it is already in force

Every member of the House seems to be interested in the seventy-five and eighty-five cent gas provisions which the Senate bill carries. The off-hand comment heard around the offices of members of the House is that the House will agree to that amendment in a jiffy.

rebellion, the statement continues: "Conclusive evidence has come into trial that he had entered into an agreement with the German government, which explicitly provided that the brigade which he was trying to raise among Irish soldiers held as prisoners might be employed in Egypt against the British crown. Those among the Irish soldiers who resisted Casement's solicitations of disloyalty were subjected to treatment of exceptional cruelty by the Germans. Some of them since have been exchanged as invalids and have died in this country, regarding Casement as their murderer." In conclusion, the statement points out that the suggestion, which has been "conclusively disproved," that Casement went to Ireland to try to stop the rising was not raised at the trial, nor was the plea of insanity. ment with the German government, per cent to the rate without violating the usury law.

Recent loans on the proposed Meridian mansions, made in Philadelphia, were at 5.4 per cent, the four-tenths being the Pennsylvania state tax on intangible property.

There are on deposit in the banks of Washington something like $95,000,000.

The tax on this money, if the new law is adopted, would be $380,000.

There is no way to give the exact valuation, or even a fair estimate of the stock and bond holdings, it is said in financial circles, and any estimate would be but at the best a wild guess, but when the capital stock and bonded debt of corporations, bank shares,
